Family Resource Library

Developed by the Sandhills Center Family Support and Community Collaboration Program
9/13/19

The Family Resource Library was developed by the Family Support and Community Collaboration Program (sponsored by Sandhills Center LME/MCO and NC Families United) to aid families who are seeking information on topics such as parenting/child development, trauma/grief, suicide signs/prevention, substance misuse, service organizations, education, and many other subject areas. This is not an exhaustive list of resources but we hope this information will answer some of your questions. Contact the Family Support Advocate for your county to learn more about local resources. Please call a Family Support Advocate if we can provide you with printed information on any of the resources you find in this library.

Sandhills Center:

The Sandhills Center website contains information for families including a link that allows the user to look up providers of mental health, substance abuse, or developmental disability services for adults and children. There is a link that provides access to anonymous self-screenings, educational resources, and referral information in English and Spanish. There is a link to the Family Support Program that provides contact information for the Family Support Advocates and a calendar of upcoming events.
